Certificate, IRA, and ESA Statement General Information

If you currently have (a) Certificate Account(s) and an IRA, your statement is a combined statement. This statement will reflect any Traditional, Roth, and/or SEP IRA Account(s). Your Certificate(s) is/are listed first, followed by your IRA Account(s), with an IRA/ESA Statement of Condition that is located at the end of your statement.

If you currently have an Educational Savings Account (ESA), your statement is separate from other Navy Federal account statements, with an IRA/ESA Statement of Condition located at the end of your statement.

The following Term/Transaction Descriptions apply to Certificates, IRAs, and ESAs:

- YTD: Year-to-Date.
- Certificate Renewal: Renewal of an existing Certificate to a new term and/or dividend rate.
- Penalty: Dividend penalty generated by early withdrawal from a Certificate.
- Dividends Paid This Period: Total amount of dividends paid (posted) to your account during this statement period.
- Annual Percentage Yield (APY): An annualized rate that reflects projected dividend earnings of an account based on the dividend rate and frequency of compounding. APY is calculated assuming that funds remain in the account for one full year.
- Annual Percentage Yield Earned (APYE): An annualized rate that reflects the relationship of dividends actually paid to the average account balance. Generally, the APYE may differ from the APY due to the effects of rounding and the number of days in the dividend period.
